

Save-the-Dates!

The Centre for Indigenous Governance presents
the 2011-2012 Lecture Series:
Indigenous Women Leaders

Indigenous Women Leaders in the Media | October 6, 2011

Cheryl MacKenzie - Producer and Host for APTN's Infocus and Investigates. Cheryl will speak about the portrayal of Indigenous women leaders in the media, present a video collection and speak about her own path to becoming a producer.

Indigenous Women Leaders on the International Stage | November 24, 2011 (new date)

President Mary Simon - Inuit Tapiriit Kanatami - President Simon is internationally known for advancing social justice for the Inuit. She holds high level positions in the Arctic Circle and has significant political and governance experience on the international stage. She will speak about politics on the international stage and her own path and experiences as a leader.

Indigenous Women Leaders Paving the Way for Self-Government | December 5, 2011 (new date)

Dr. Viola Robinson - Dr. Robinson is a Mi'kmaq from Nova Scotia who was a former commissioner on the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples, has received the Order of Canada, National Aboriginal Achievement Award and is the Special Advisor for the Mi'kmaq Self-Government Negotiations. She will speak about the challenges of self-government and her own path to leadership.

 All events will take place at Noon in the Arts & Letters Club, (14 Elm St.) Lunch will be provided; Registration is required.*

Indigenous Women Leaders Advocating for our Future Generations | January 19, 2012

Dr. Cindy Blackstock - Dr. Blackstock is the head of the First Nations Child and Family Caring Society. She is a passionate advocate for Aboriginal children in addressing issues like poverty, child welfare, education and discrimination. Her advocacy efforts have inspired a whole new generation of advocates behind her.

Indigenous Women Leaders Advocating for Equality | March 22, 2012

Senator Sandra Lovelace-Nicholas - Senator Lovelace-Nicholas is Maliseet woman from Tobique First Nation in New Brunswick who took Canada to the United Nations over gender inequality in the Indian Act and won. She will speak about the ongoing quest for gender equality for Indigenous women and her own path to leadership.

Contact Us

Centre for Indigenous Governance
(416) 979-5000, ext. 5105
cig@ryerson.ca
www.ryerson.ca/cig

EVENT SPONSORS:

Charles S. Coffey, O.C.

Everyone Makes a Mark