

Ryerson University, located in the heart of Toronto, is known for innovative programs built on the integration of theoretical and practically oriented learning. More than 95 undergraduate and graduate programs are distinguished by a professionally focused curriculum and strong emphasis on excellence in teaching, research and creative activities. The Department of Economics at Ryerson offers undergraduate degrees in International Economics and Finance and Economics and Management Science, an MA in International Economics and Finance, and a PhD in Economics.

Department of Economics

Three 3-year Limited Term Faculty Positions

The Department of Economics seeks to fill three 3-year Limited Term Faculty Positions. Qualified candidates from all fields will be considered. All applicants must have completed a PhD in Economics or Finance or a related discipline (or expect to do so by August 2011). Applicants must show potential for excellence in research and in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Information on the Department can be found at www.ryerson.ca/economics.

To apply for the position, please visit <http://EconJobMarket.org>. The entire application process is online; no paper applications will be accepted. The search will begin immediately and applications will continue to be accepted until the position is filled.

This position falls under the jurisdiction of the Ryerson Faculty Association (RFA). The RFA collective agreement can be viewed at:

http://www.ryerson.ca/teaching/employment_resources/rfa.html. The RFA's website can be found at: <http://www.ryerson.ca/~rfa/>. A summary of RFA benefits can be found at: <http://www.ryerson.ca/hr/working/etoolkit/benefits/rfa/>

Ryerson University has an employment equity program and encourages applications from all qualified individuals, including Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities and women. Members of designated groups are encouraged to self-identify. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.