

Geographical Boundaries for Distance Placements

To be considered a distance placement, students must reside outside the boundaries of this map, and the proposed placement site must be located outside the boundaries of this map.

