Focuses on organizational transformation in a winter sports destination

Mobilizes traditional concepts to actor-network theory alongside recent developments

Climate change produces uncertainty and controversies

Snow is an entity that produces uncertainty in winter sports tourism

The tourism network has been deconstructed and reconfigured

Visit htmsresearch.ca for more