Liam Mosher (he/him) is an artist born and raised in Calgary, Alberta. He hopes to use his passion and the opportunities he's been given to service stories bigger than himself.

During his time at X University, Liam had the privilege to originate the role of Petruchio in Eva Barrie's Untamed, in partnership with Tarragon Theatre. He has had the opportunity to be taught and directed by many incredible artists such as Tim Welham, Leah Cherniak, Ivan Sherry, Nicola Correia-Damude, Marianne McIsaac, Iqbal Khan, and Lisa Cox.

Liam is eternally grateful for the continued support of his family and friends and for the chance to be part of the incredible ensemble of the fourth year class at XU. He is excited to be continually pushed as both an artist and a person as he starts his career.
