SKILLS - Basic dance and vocal training

James Dawson (he/him) is a Toronto-based actor eager to immerse himself fully into the film/tv/theatre industry. He is excited for any opportunity to get into the industry and looks forward to expanding his horizons with whatever work comes his way.

While at TMU, James has undergone a multitude of different instructors and directors. A few special projects include, his time in devised works, experiences with both classical and contemporary theater and his work on student films.

James would like to give his thanks to all of his acting coaches, his peers, and his unequivocally supportive family. He is ready to find a space in the industry and (hopefully) soar.
