Beyond Pipelines & Prisons: Infrastructures of Abolition

October 26, 2020 | 6:30-8:00 p.m. EDT | Zoom

This event features two extraordinary feminist, anti-colonial thinkers in dialogue about how to build the infrastructures that can take us beyond planetary social and ecological collapse. Anishinaabe leader Winona LaDuke and Professor Ruth Wilson Gilmore are both decorated authors and organizers who are also deeply invested and active in on-the-ground social transformation.

Moderated by Dr. Shiri Pasternak, Research Director at Yellowhead Institute. Co-presented by the Unifor National Chair in Social Justice and Democracy at Ryerson and the University of Toronto's Department of Geography and Planning.
