Upcoming Events

Canadian Water Summit 2022

Toronto Metropolitan University is sponsoring the Canadian Water Summit 2022. As such a number of faculty and graduate students specializing in water will be in attendance. In particular our inaugural Nicholas Reid Memorial Award winner Zanina Ilieva will be speaking on PFAS.

Urban Water will have a booth with the hydroponic green wall experiment, several postcards highlighting research projects, and a video of interviews on a loop with researchers and graduate students pitching their research projects.

Urban Innovation Cafe

City Building TMU is developing a new webinar series for Fall 2022 called the Urban Innovation Cafe, which features the relevant and timely work of TMU researchers and why it matters to cities. Each webinar will highlight the work of two researchers followed by a moderated discussion. Researchers will present their work informally (with or without visuals) and should expect a commitment of 15 min for a planning meeting and 50 min for the webinar taping itself.

Please let us know if you are interested!
